To mark the Mother Earth Day and the International Year for Plant Health, the United Nations Information Service (UNIS) Vienna, in cooperation with the Permanent Mission of Greece to the United Nations (Vienna), this human world film festival and Topkino, invites you to the Ciné-ONU Vienna screening of the movie “When tomatoes met Wagner”.

Elias, a small farming village in central Greece, is dying out. But two cousins team up with the village grannies to cultivate the tomato seeds they have kept for hundreds of years. With a little help from Wagner’s music – which they use to help their tomatoes grow – the team succeeds to export little jars with organic tomato recipes across the world. The film follows the protagonists of this unlikely quest, as they struggle to survive and make their dream come true. Humorous and bittersweet, this is a story about the importance of reinventing oneself in times of crisis and the power of human relationships. Watch the trailer here: https://vimeo.com/315176567

“Ciné-ONU Vienna” is part of a Europe-wide initiative of regular film screenings of UN related topics followed by podium discussions with invited guests who were part of the film making process or are experts in the topic covered by the film. The United Nations Information Service (UNIS) Vienna is honoured to have “Ciné-ONU Vienna” partner with this human world (THW) film festival and Topkino for the regular film screenings in Vienna.

For more information: www.unis.unvienna.org/unis/events/cine-ouunu-vienna.html

If you would like to receive invitations for Ciné-ONU Vienna film screenings by email, please write to unis.vienna@un.org

Please note the United Nations does not necessarily endorse the views and opinions expressed in films screened at Ciné-ONU events.