To mark the International Day for Disarmament and Non-Proliferation Awareness, the United Nations Information Service (UNIS) Vienna, in cooperation with the United Nations Office for Disarmament Affairs (UNODA) at Vienna, invites you to the Ciné-ONU Vienna screening of the documentary “Nuclear Armageddon: How Close Are We?”, followed by a panel discussion.

Panellists:
Stephanie Fenkart
Director, International Institute for Peace (IIP)
Rebecca Jovin
Chief of Office, United Nations Office for Disarmament Affairs at Vienna (UNODA)
Alexander Kmentt
Director for Disarmament, Arms Control and Non-Proliferation, Austrian Federal Ministry for Europe and International Affairs
Elena K. Sokova
Executive Director, Vienna Center for Disarmament and Non-Proliferation (VCDNP)
Martin Nesirky
Director, UNIS Vienna (moderator)

With the Doomsday Clock the closest it’s ever been to midnight, British journalist and film-maker Jane Corbin investigates the proliferation of nuclear weapons across the globe. This is a story told by the scientists, investigators and diplomats who set the clock and have fought to ensure that the ultimate deterrent has not been used in over 70 years.
